

WORKSHOP - 3

CONNECT. ALBANIA 2026
AN ESAIC-ASAI COLLABORATIVE CONGRESS
6-7 NOVEMBER 2026, TIRANA, ALBANIA

From Impact to Survival

A Live Multidisciplinary Mass Casualty Road Traffic Simulation

SATURDAY, 7 NOVEMBER 2026 Scanderbeg Square PROGRAMME

| 09:30-10:30 (1 hour) | Live Demonstration                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                      | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Activation of the National Emergency Response System</li> <li>• Incident Command System (ICS) implementation</li> <li>• Scene safety assessment and area control</li> <li>• START triage and patient prioritization</li> <li>• Vehicle extrication of trapped victims</li> <li>• Airway management and life-saving interventions</li> <li>• Hemorrhage control and trauma stabilization</li> <li>• Coordination between EMS, Fire &amp; Rescue, Police and receiving hospitals</li> <li>• Ambulance dispatch and patient transport according to injury severity</li> <li>• Structured patient handover to receiving hospitals</li> <li>• Post-incident debriefing and key learning points</li> </ul> |
| 10:30-10:40 (10 min) | Feedbacks and summary                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

Jointly organized by:

Saimir Kuci (AL), Xheladin Dracini (AL)
Skender Brataj (AL), Agron Dogjani (AL), Ervin Bejko (AL)

- University of Medicine, Tirana (UMT)
- National Emergency Medical Service of Albania
- Albanian Society of Trauma and Emergency Surgery (ASTES)
- Albanian Society of Anaesthesiologists and Intensivists (ASAI)
- Albanian Society of Emergency and Disaster Medicine (AAEMD)

